CURIOUS THINGS OF LIFE.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has 80,369 persons in its employ.

Zoar Bridge, Conn., has a horse that, in drinking from brooks, laps up the water like a dog.

Onmor, Ala., has a curiosity in the shape of a petrified pine stump, weighing about 300 pounds.

A mule 45 years old does a little service for a Georgia physician, who has had him since 1849.

John Cole, of Lapeer township, Mich., has a hen which makes a regular thing of laying 6x6 1/2 inch eggs.

A Chinese theatrical troupe has been organized at Portland, Ore., to make a tour of the United States.

An Oglethorpe, Ga., boy has a cat which is performing maternal functions for three young foxes and two kittens.

A Lawrenceville, Ga., cyclone carried part of a fence twenty feet and set it down again just as it had stood, every rail in the ground up in its place.

White lead is manufactured by the new Hannay method direct from the ore in the space of a few hours, while by the old process it was a matter of several months.

An Albany, Ga., young man made desperate love at a dance to the wearer of a mask.
Imagine his surprise when the object of his addresses raised her face covering and said:
"You ought to love your aunt."

Judge J. H. Gaston, of Meriwether, Ga., has jumped across a thin foot gully every birthday of his life for many years.
The other day he was 75 years old, and he made the jump with perfect ease.

The greatest surprise of the day is the statement that the Eiffel tower is not, in fact, the Eiffel tower, but the Mongolian tower. It was a young engineer of that name in Eiffel's employment who first conceived the idea and worked it out.

A San Francisco doctor delivered a lecture the other night before the Cooper medical college, in which he entered into an eloquent defense of the pun from a medical standpoint. He claimed that it produced laughter, which is antagonistic to nearly all disease.

A Georgia colored man is very fond of alligators as a food product. He captures the saunders, and, after duly preparing them, serves them as he does his hams. In his smokehouse at present five or six of these reptiles are hung up undergoing the smoking process.

A ghost has appeared near Akron, Ala., at a point on the railroad where a man was run over and killed last summer. A ghostly figure in white, with arms extended, was seen there by a young couple who were out riding the other evening. Both were badly scared and so was the horse.

Ten years ago the superintendent of an Iowa railroad noted a tramp out of his office for having the check to ask for a pass.
Today that tramp is the superintendent of that same road, while the man who lifted him on his back keeps a restaurant and sells him over lunches.

The largest pension but one ever granted to a Union soldier was recently granted to Christian Holworth, of Lovellville, N. Y. He receives a back pension exclusive of expenses, of $12,979.90, and a monthly allowance of $72. Mr. Holworth is an inmate of the Lewis county asylum, and is incurably insane.

J. D. Stafford, of Grantville, Ga., let all the water out of his carp pond. At the bottom he found a large hollow gourd, within which were two catfish, too large to get out.
They had entered the pond when small, and had remained there until their bodies became too large to pass through the door which admitted them.

A Paris fakir is making a fortune by advertising a cure for corpulency which will, without injury to health, take off two pounds in ten minutes. In return for a franc he advises a trip up the Eiffel tower, at the top of which reduced atmospheric pressure reduces the average man's weight temporarily by about two pounds.

A citizen of Moncton, N. B., called a doctor to extract two teeth for his daughter.
The doctor requested the man to look after his horse while the operation was being performed. He charged fifty cents (half price) for his services, whereat the citizen turned pale, but quickly recovering himself, put in a counter claim of twenty-five cents for holding the horse.

A Boston girl was married to a Chinaman named Charley June. The ceremony proceeded with much difficulty. When the groom was asked if he would take the bride to be his "wedded wife" he became confused; the clergyman suggested that the usual reply was "I will," but it was not till the bride had warmly said: "Say yes or no, one or the other," that June came to the aid of "I will."

STRAY BITS.

Savannah is said to be flooded with counterfeit silver dollars.

A man in Harney Valley, Nev., has been arrested for stealing a frame house.

Coral is said to be a coming rage. It is to be worn in all forms, even for buttons.

A copy of John Eliot's Bible has just been purchased by the trustees of the British museum.

The famous botanical gardens at Edinburgh, Scotland, have just been opened to the public on Sundays.

Up to the present time the Canadian government has given 40,000,000 acres of land to railroad companies.

About 2,540,000 people traveled on the Manhattan Elevated railway during the three days of the centennial.

It is estimated that Americans will spend $40,000,000 in Europe this season, of which probably $2,000,000 will go for tips.

An authority on the subject says it is safe to say requirements will call for 150,000,000 to 200,000,000 railroad ties this year.

More than 1,000 empty patent medicine bottles were found in the house of a rich bachelor who died at Knoxville, Pa., lately.

Of the fifty or more ambitious writers who have attempted to fill Josh Billings' shoes, not one has succeeded in attracting attention.

About the only rail fence in Cleveland, curious to say, is in the most aristocratic portion of the city, on Euclid avenue, near Case.

A Milwaukee man has designed an apparatus by which he claims that water may be successfully burned in a cook stove or ordinary heater.

Brussels has distinguished herself by a bonnet show. The first prize was given to a "flat, oyster shell sort of contrivance, decorated with raspberries."

Dr. Richardson has invented a lethal muzzle by which dogs or horses injured in the street may be killed in a few minutes as painlessly as in the lethal chamber.

The largest circulation on record is that attained by the volume "Hymns, Ancient and Modern." Twenty million copies have been sold in the eighteen years of its existence.

A reporter for a Paris newspaper entered a den of byenas to prove that it did not require any particular skill. He was so bitten and torn that the surgeons doubt if he can recover.

Several head of cattle were bitten by a mad dog which passed through Morrill township, Mich., the other day. Some sheep which were attacked by the animal butted themselves to death.

One Dr. Theinus, of Vienna, has invented a process by which he declares that good heavy sole leather can be made from the wood of old red beech trees. He has applied for patents.

An Atlanta, Ga., burglar has a pistol on whose handle are twelve notches, every one of which he says represents the killing of a man. The burglar couldn't be hanged twelve times.

The greatest snuff taking country in the world is France, though it shows a decline in the habit. In 1829 the consumption was 13,000,000 pounds, or seven ounces per head.
Now it is five ounces.

The making of veneered diamonds is a new Parisian industry. The body of the gem is cut from quartz and then by galvanic action coated with a solution made from diamond chips and stones too small for cutting.

Mr. McWilliams, of Columbus, O., objected to his hired girl, being out every night until midnight, and so she set his house on fire and picked up her bundle and departed to find some one with more humanity in his nature.

Hereafter the boats to be carried by Atlantic steamers instead of being made of wood will be made of steel in one piece. Wooden boats rot and are easily crushed. The new boats will be made of steel, and they will be made for rolling them out in all sizes in a single plate.

Daniel Davis, an old man living in Weldeport, N. Y., wanted to be buried in a barrel when he died, and although he had had the barrel in his house for nineteen long years, his wife managed the funeral to suit herself, and he went into a fifteen dollar coffin instead of the barrel.

The lucky ticket which drew a horse at a rifle in the First National lottery, Mich., the other day, was held by D. N. Trudger, who, when he saw the "foul blooded animal" which had been advertised, immediately accepted an offer of $7 for it. The "trooper" will pull a garbage wagon against time.

An esteemed contemporary prints the following advertisement, apropos of the sale of the old Poe house: "Wanted, by an author almond, a famous, a small house, rent free for life, in consideration of the large price which may afterward be obtained for said house from some admirer of the author."

The smallest oil painting in the world is entitled "What an Awful Lie," is one inch by an inch and a quarter in size, very handsomely framed, and was painted by Mueller, a celebrated artist. The picture represents two monks in conversation, one of them evidently getting off a whopper to the other. It is exhibited in New York.

Two wheelmen, Messrs. Bournston and Stokes, have reached Constantinople from Egypt, after traveling 4,000 miles on bicycles, on their way to England. They will proceed to Italy, and thence continue their wheeling tour to the channel. After visiting England they will return homeward overland by a new route. They hope to complete the trip by the autumn of the next year.

CURIOUS THINGS OF LIFE.

A Brooklyn man dreamed he was in a scrimmage, and drew his pistol from under his pillow and shot himself.

In a divorce case at Pittsburgh, Pa., a woman testified that soon after marriage her husband laid down a rule that she was not to eat meat, butter, eggs or lard.

Cyrus Arter, of Youngville, Pa., went to Sugar Grove to attend the funeral of a brother who had been accidentally killed, was taken ill there with grief and died in a few days.

A Tacoma, W. T., paper says that place is being blessed with a perfect cold burst of babies. It reports the birth of twenty baby boys and dainty girls in different parts of the town.

Levi Johnson, of Boston, Ga., is 84 years old and has been blind for ten years. The other day his sight suddenly returned to him and he called for a book and read with perfect ease.

A woman in Findlay, O., and a friend of hers in Utica, N. Y., both dreamed the same identical dream on the same night, although hundreds of miles apart. Both dreamed of funerals, of course.

Several years ago a piece of a pump stock was placed in a spring at Neversink, Pa., for safe keeping. It was taken out lately, and next day an old two and a half feet long was found in it full of animation.

Peter E. Vose is the Footh of Dennyville, Me. These are the folks he holds and the "honored" length of his services: First selectman, 20 years; treasurer, 25 years; assessor, 31 years; overseer, 24 years; town agent, 20 years.

A Steubenville man thought something was wrong with his nose. It was nearly stopped up. After suffering from this annoyance almost a year or so he went to the doctor, who removed a shoe button from the base part of the nasal cavity. The man now breathes more easily.

In a few of the famine stricken districts of China mothers are selling their children. A missionary, who visited the market town of Wang Chia Chuan, met many women on the streets calling out: "Who will buy this boy? I can't feed him any longer, and I don't want to hear him crying about for want of food."

Mr. Samuel Fries, residing near Steins-ville, Lehigh county, Pa., is happy in the possession of a beard measuring 4 feet and 9 inches in length—the same extending considerably below his knees. He is a man 71 years of age, well built, weighing 235 pounds, and has been cultivating his whisker crop for twenty-eight years straight along with a success that probably stands unsurpassed.

A drunken thug at Warsadin, Hungary, ascended the lofty steeple of the Franciscan church there by means of the lightning conductor, and stood upright on the cross at the top. He remained in this perious position for fully fifteen minutes and delivered a speech to the crowd that was watching him from below. Afterward he calmly descended to the ground without being in any way hurt.

NECKLACE NOTES.

Necklaces from the reign of Charles I were made of amber set in gold.

Pharaoh put a gold chain about Joseph's neck as a mark of his authority in Egypt.

Among the Tartars of the time of Genghis Khan the necklace was often made of human teeth.

In the reign of Henry VIII any one who had not £200 per year income could not wear a necklace.

The southern negroes constantly wear their bead necklaces, looking upon them as genuine charms.

One of the most valuable and coveted possessions of the western Indian is the necklace of grizzly bear claws.

The Puritans abolished necklaces as they abolished everything they laid their hands on which savored of ornament.

Thousands of people place necklaces of coral beads around the necks of babies with the belief that they will assist the children in teething.

When the Saxon dynasty was overthrown by the Normans, all persons below a certain rank were forbidden to wear necklaces under heavy penalties.

In South America the natives wear necklaces of a peculiarly marked seed which belongs to a plant growing only on the mountains, along the snow line.

It is said that electricity is applicable to tanning, and that leather can be produced from the raw hides in four days by it.
